64th ANNUAL CONVENTION HIGHLIGHTS

Annual Awards and Installation of Officers

by Jo Louise Winters, PR Chair

The American Council for Polish Culture held our 64th Annual Convention, July 18-21, 2012, in Williamsburg, VA. The Saturday evening Banquet Program climaxing the Convention was presided over by President Deborah Majka. She introduced Rev. Canon Philip S. Majka "Dusz Pasterz" who gave the invocation. After a delicious dinner, the Annual Awards Presentation ceremonies began with awards to individual members of ACPC and Polonia.

President Majka introduced ACPC Awards Committee Chairperson Mary Flanagan who announced the winners of the Founders Awards: Mary Ellen Tyszkla, Second Vice President and Treasurer Gregory Biestek. These two very active Board members were chosen to receive the Founders Awards for their many valuable contributions to the ACPC organization over a period of many years.

Mary Ellen Tyszkla has served as both First and Second Vice-President. She has been a Director, Chaired the Audit Committee, and has been on the Nominations and the Credentials and Grievances Committees. Recently, Mary Ellen spent many hours reviewing, updating and making extensive revisions to the very important Convention Guidelines for planning ACPC conventions. She produced a spiral-bound booklet of 44 pages covering the most suitable and necessary preparations for conducting successful future conventions. The revised guidelines were received with great appreciation for the

by Peter J. Obst

On the afternoon of July 20, 2012, a group of officers and members of the American Council for Polish Culture (ACPC), accompanied by government officials, dignitaries and guests gathered on the roadside of Virginia Route 31 near the entrance to the site of the historic Jamestown Settlement. It was here, in the vicinity of historical markers devoted to German and African settlers of Jamestown and the Indian Princess Pocahontas, that a new marker has been placed, to record the arrival of Polish craftsmen at the site in 1608. These men came on the second supply ship, the "Mary and Margaret," early in the history of the settlement when skilled hands and industrious individuals were needed to help the struggling English colony survive.

The dedication ceremonies began with Debbie Majka, President of the ACPC, welcoming the approximately 50 persons who assembled on the grassy area near the marker. At the same time a sporadic light summer shower started sprinkling the area, necessitating the use of umbrellas. After her greeting, Father Philip Majka (not related to Debbie) offered up a prayer.

Then followed Mayor of Williamsburg Claude Haulman who underscored the importance of the occasion. Wendy Musumeci from the Commonwealth of Virginia Department of Historic Resources spoke about the importance of recognizing the contributions of immigrants in the Commonwealth. At one point her voice shook with emotion as she mentioned her Polish husband Martin and her baby son Maks, who were also present at the event.

Tom Payne, chairman of the Marker Committee, explained how the marker came about, and that because of the rich Polish-American history in Virginia, future markers were being contemplated. A definite possibility is one for Union

From the President

Dear Members,

After each of our conventions, we return to our homes with pleasant memories of new places visited and new and renewed friendships. Our recent Williamsburg convention provided all of that plus so much more. The placement of this Commonwealth of Virginia Historical Marker, a permanent recognition of the arrival of the first Poles in Jamestown and their strike for equal rights in the New World, proudly proclaims to all visitors to Jamestown that the Poles were there and what they accomplished. We are indebted to Tom Payne, President of the Polish American Arts Association who chaired this project and saw it through to completion.

In November in Seattle, Washington, under the capable chairmanship of Cecilia and Ray Glembocki, ACPC will again be represented at the National Conference for Social Studies (NCSS). One of the most important efforts of ACPC is to provide teachers with ready to use, accurate information about Polish history and culture to high school and college students. During the course of the two-day convention, ACPC distributes resource material to thousands of teachers, free-of-charge. As you might imagine, this requires a large financial outlay on the part of ACPC to prepare these materials and make them available to the teachers. We hope you recognize the importance of this effort. Your financial support is needed and contributions may be made, payable to ACPC-NCSS. Send to Cecilia Glembocki, 911 Saddlebrook Court, McLean, VA 22102-1317.

Recently, ACPC saw the passing of two remarkable and accomplished women: Dr. Estelle-Wachtel Torres, most recently Chair of the Literary Competition and Anna Chrypinska, past President and author of our history. Their dedication to their families and to our ACPC family is legendary. Both were outstanding role models always providing advice and wise counsel, always setting an example. They will be missed, but their families may be assured that their legacy lives on in ACPC.

Regrettably, this year's Youth Leadership Conference had to be cancelled. At its inception under the capable chairmanship of Dr. Maria Chrypinska more than 15 years ago, no other Polonian organization offered an opportunity of this type. Students were able to meet face-to-face with Polish and Polish-American leaders in the fields of science, economics, government, arts and the media and to benefit greatly from their collective years of experience, knowledge and wise counsel.

Today, Polonia has seen the proliferation of these types of conferences, although none exactly like ours, which emphasized the grooming of future leaders to succeed us in Polonia and to represent us in government. We also recognize that students today if given a choice between attending this Youth Leadership Conference or serving at an internship, will probably opt for the latter, which will look great on their respective resumes. If this sounds like we're giving up, we're not! Our committee intends to review all aspects of the conference to determine what we might do to revamp it with an eye toward enticing students to attend in the future. If you have any ideas, please let me know. We are most grateful to Irena and Ted Mirecki, recent chairs of this event, who gave so much of their time and energy and talent on behalf of ACPC.

A friendly reminder—Presidents of affiliates are members of the board and as such, have the right to attend our board meetings. We could benefit greatly from your experience and hope you will share it with us at the next board meeting, which will be hosted by the Polish Arts Club of Youngstown, OH, from October 19-21, 2012. All the details may be found on our website: www.polishcultureacpc.org. In addition to the business meetings, we'll have free time to socialize and to tour the sights in Youngstown. I hope you'll be there.

The Polish Cultural Club of Greater Hartford, Inc.

submitted by Fran Pudlo

The Polish Cultural Club of Greater Hartford, Inc. is proud to have completed two major projects for 2012. President Cliff Archie presented a complimentary copy of the Polish American Encyclopedia to the six libraries in towns/cities where most of the members reside. Also, upon hearing of an Information Center to be built at Monte Cassino, Italy, the Club voted to donate five hundred dollars to the Polish Army Veterans Association toward the construction of this Center.

Noteworthy programs attracted members and many guests. On April 29, 2012, Mario Enzler, a former Swiss Guard under Blessed John Paul II, captivated the audience with his experiences at the Vatican and the impact it had on his life. Personal anecdotes enhanced the presentation.

On May 3, at the annual celebration of Polish Day at the Connecticut State Capitol, Patricia Archie and Ursula Brodowicz were honored for their work and dedication to the Polish community. Once again, the Polish flag was visibly flying proudly above the Capitol building.

Member Krysia Jopek, author of Maps and Shadows, was the featured speaker at the May 24 meeting. She shared her family's struggle during the brutal Soviet deportation of 1.5 million Polish civilians to forced labor camps in Siberia shortly before World War II.

Five undergraduate students received a one thousand dollar scholarship on June 14. They were: Maciej Gadomski, (Quinnipiac University), Edward Kieltyka, (St. Joseph's College in Maine), Christina Marconi, (University of North Carolina), Timothy Slowikowski, (Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute), and Randall Waszynski, (Stony Brook College).

Ewa Wolynska, University Archivist Coordinator of Polish American Archives at Central Connecticut State University, gave an archival history of Polish Americans in Connecticut and New England on September 16. These Archives serve as a research depository for the public, scholars and students of the Polish community in America.

Mario Enzler, a former Swiss Guard in the service of Blessed Pope John Paul II, shared his experiences in a lecture called "I Served a Saint" on April 29, 2012.

Matthew K. Poland (l), Chief Executive Officer of Hartford Public Library receives a copy of The Polish American Encyclopedia from Cliff Archie, President of the Polish Cultural Club of Greater Hartford, Inc., on June 27, 2012.

Polish Heritage Society of Philadelphia

Promoting Poland

On August 22, 2012 the Polish Heritage Society of Philadelphia was invited by the Cultural Heritage Committee of Johnson and Johnson (J & J) to their Corporate Headquarters in New Brunswick, NJ to participate in their highlighting of Poland. The goal of J & J is to enlighten their employees of the culture and heritage of countries where they conduct business. This year they are highlighting Poland. We had a wonderful display of Polish books, Polish Pottery (Boleslawiec), candies, polish cut outs (Wycianki) in addition to Polish regional costumes, polish jewelry, and posters promoting the 36th Annual Adam Styka Art Exhibit and Sale which will take place at the National Shrine of Our Lady of Czestochowa in Doylestown, PA.

Other exhibitors joining our group were one travel agency from Wallington, NJ and representatives from Polish Tourism Bureau promoting travel to Poland in addition to the Polish Dance School, "Maki", who performed for the employees in Polish costumes.

The employees of J & J were most enthusiastic to learn about the people and customs of Poland and asked many questions. They also enjoyed tasting the delicious candies that we supplied at our exhibit. In addition, we promoted the Polish Heritage Society of Philadelphia and ACPC by passing out our membership brochure which identifies the mission of the Polish Heritage Society and its activities.

The Polish Heritage Society of Philadelphia was represented by Marie Hejnosz, President and Jean Joka, Publicity Director (photo above). All in all it was a most successful exhibit and delightful day at J & J. We were very proud to represent the country of Poland.

SEMBRICH CONCERT

During the recent ACPC Convention, members and guests attended the Marcella Kochanska Sembrich Concert at the Williamsburg Inn on Thursday evening, July 19. Sembrich Music Committee Chair, Alicia L. Dutka, and her Committee members Dr. Robert Dutka and Jaroslaw Golembiowski had selected Andrzej Stec, Tenor, as the winner of the 2012 Sembrich Award. Mrs. Dutka introduced Andrzej Stec and Piano Accompanist Jean Eudes Vaillancourt to the excited audience. Mr. Stec's first song, Beethoven's Adelaide was rendered with a fully developed time quality as the control between pianist and vocalist was very precise. The two Chopin selections, Moja Pieszczotka (My Beloved) and Gdzie Lubi (Where's Love) were offered emphasizing the poignancy of the words. The tenor voice presentation was beautiful and so plaintive in Moniuszko's Znasz Ten Kraj (Dost know this Land), which left the audience mesmerized by its reverence.

Following the intermission, Mr. Stec sang several very romantic arias with delightful expressions of love so handsomely exhibited by facial expressions and body movements. Stec's accompanist Eudes Vaillancourt, a sensitive pianist, has an uncanny sense of how to accompany the human voice without overwhelming it. Great charm and magnetism were projected upon the smiling audience by Stec as he passionately sang Stoly Brunetki i Blondynki in which he and Vaillancourt follow the narrative of young romantic love and joyful infatuation. Stec's tenor voice cuts through the air with delightful inviting innuendos. The humorous lyrics of Stoly Brunetki i Blondynki as well as the entire concert inspired the audience to leap to its feet in joyful expression of enthusiastic applause for several minutes to express its delight for the entire evening's concert. After its explosive reaction to the delightful concert, the audience rushed to the stage front to congratulate the two performers and to purchase Stec's CDs.

The Music Committee members and Pres. Debbie Majka gathered around the performers as Chairlady Alecia Dutka presented Mr. Stec with the annual Sembrich Award of $2,000. Everyone crowded around recounting the enjoyment of Stec's outstanding presentations of beloved Polish songs and opera arias.

A member of our Detroit Affiliate, Friends of Polish Art, Jacqueline Kolowski corresponded with Mr. Stec, sending General Vladimir "Kryz" Krzyzanowski who distinguished himself as a colonel in several Civil War battles while leading regiments composed of immigrant Germans and Poles. Yet, whose promotion was stalled because members of congress were unable to pronounce his excellent Polish name.

Colonel Lafayette Jones, US Army Retired, mentioned some of the vital roles that Poles played in the development of United States military history, singling out Tadeusz Kosciuszko -- a military engineer and brigadier general in Washington's army -- who, among his several accomplishments during the Revolutionary War, prepared the defenses at Saratoga and laid plans for the fortifications at West Point, NY. This important bulwark, known as the Gibraltar of America, checked the British move south along the Hudson River and later became the site of America's main military academy.

The commentaries were rounded out by Piotr Konowrocki, Consul General of the Polish Republic, who made the trip from Washington DC. His arrival was not announced earlier and it was a surprise to many of the organizers and spectators to see a car with diplomatic plates pull up to the site. He was most welcome however, as he brought greetings and good wishes from the Polish government and diplomatic corps on the occasion of this important event.

Then, Edward Pinkowski, 95 years old, one of Polonia's most respected historians and a person who initiated the installation of several historical markers in Pennsylvania, was asked to come up. He pulled off the cover and as those present applauded, the marker was officially unveiled.

President Debbie Majka read aloud the words written in black letters on the silver surface of the marker: Skilled craftsmen of Polish origin recruited by the Virginia Company began arriving in Jamestown aboard the "Mary and Margaret" about 1 Oct. 1608. Poles contributed to the development of a glass factory and the production of potash, naval stores, and wood products. Soon samples of their work were shipped back to England. The workers were so highly prized that they were assigned apprentices so that their skill "shall not dye with them." Capt. John Smith praised their work ethic in his writings. Court records indicate that as a result of a dispute, Poles were granted full voting rights on 21 July 1619.

Fr. Thomas Machalski, Rector of the Polish Seminary at Orchard Lake Michigan delivered the closing prayer. Before returning to Williamsburg and continuing the annual convention of the ACPC many of the spectators stayed around to admire this latest addition to the set of historical markers, and had their pictures taken on site. These and additional photographs of the ceremonies may be seen at www.poles.org. Information about the American Council for Polish Culture is on: <http://www.polishcultureacpc.org>.

The Polish Experience - Totally Immersed

Michael E. Starzak

MEJS Press - Vestal, New York - Soft cover 247 pages

Michael E. Starzak, a professor at the State University of New York at Binghamton, spent a year in Poland as a Fulbright Fellow with his wife Anndrea just as that country was undergoing a dramatic transition to true democracy. By working in the city of Wroclaw while living in a house in a small village, they were able to see two facets of the many changes occurring during this exciting period. The year also provided an opportunity to trace family roots in Poland and experience the adventure of non-agency adoption. The year in Poland was contrasted with an earlier visit to the Soviet Union, Poland and Czechoslovakia in the early seventies.

BOOK REVIEW

Left: The casket is escorted into the church by Father Rich Dyer, celebrant, Pall Bearers and Color Guard. Right: Rita Cosby shares some memories of her father during the mass.

The prestigious Achievement Award was to be presented to Ms. Cosby at the Awards Banquet in Williamsburg at the 2012 Convention. At the banquet, the audience was informed that, due to her father's death and imminent funeral, Ms Cosby regrettably could not be present to accept her award.

The funeral was held on August 3, 2012 at the Blessed Sacrament Church in Alexandria, Virginia. Before the funeral celebration of

The Last Chapter

At the American Council for Polish Culture (ACPC) Convention 2011, Rita Cosby was a guest speaker at one of the convention luncheons. She spoke about her recent book Quiet Hero: Secrets From My Father's Past. The book was a New York times best seller and introduced us to her father's activities as a young Warsaw resistance fighter against the Nazis and his subsequent imprisonment as a German POW. Mr. Richard Cosby (Ryszard "Rys" Kossobudzki) survived the war and ultimately came to the U.S. where he became a noted civil engineer working on projects involving the National Gallery of Art, the Library of Congress and the Dirksen Senate Office Building, among others.

Many of the attendees at the luncheon were so impressed with Ms. Cosby and her story that they nominated her for the ACPC Cultural Achievement Award for 2012.

"a Patriot's Life" another ceremony took place prior to the Introductory Rites. This was the official presentation of the Order of Polonia Restituta Posthumously Presented to Richard Cosby by Minister Maciej Pisarski, Charge d'Affairs of the Embassy of the Republic of Poland. This was followed by the Color Guard from the Polish Army Veterans Association of America who escorted the casket into the church. Attending were dignitaries from both Poland and the United States.

Following the very moving funeral, guests gathered at the hearse for a last farewell. Ms. Cosby was given her belated Award at that time. Mr. Cosby's remains were to be cremated and half of the ashes will be sent to Poland to be interred at Powaski Cemetery.

Thus ends the final chapter in the life of a Quiet Hero.

him photos of the Sembrich Concert Award ceremony. She inquired about the possibility of a similar concert in Detroit. A quote from Mr. Stec's response follows (translated by Marion Winters):

First of all, I want to thank you profusely for the kind words and the invitation to Detroit. The concert in Williamsburg was a magnificent experience for both myself and pianist Jean-Eudes Vaillancourt. Above all, I am deeply moved by the magnificent Polonia of the United States and its splendid support for our culture with respect to classical music. I am deeply touched and offer (my) sincere thanks.

Other ACPC Affiliates and perhaps other Polonia organizations may seize the opportunity to attract this exceptional vocalist so that their community may also have the opportunity to hear and witness our Sembrich Concert Winner, Andrzej Stec. With Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays coming up, wouldn't a concert add greatly to the enjoyment of the festivities?! (Thank you Jackie Kolowski for leading the way!)

The Awards Committee chose Rita Cosby as the recipient of the 2012 Cultural Achievement Award. Ms. Cosby is a popular award-winning journalist and author of Quiet Hero: Secrets from my Father's Past. The publication reveals her father's courage as a participant of the Polish Resistance during World War II. He was captured and became a Nazi prisoner of war. Ms. Cosby also serves as a TV host, interviewing world renown political figures and other prominent newsworthy participants. Regrettably, Ms. Cosby was unable to accept the award in person due to her father's recent death. President Debbie Majka accepted the Cultural Achievement Award on behalf of Ms. Cosby.

Very Rev. Timothy E. Whalen was selected as the recipient of the ACPC Distinguished Service Award for 2012. Rev. Whalen attended Orchard Lake Preparatory School. He was ordained in 1978. In 2000 he was appointed Chancellor of the Orchard Lake Schools. He developed a reputation of operating a Catholic Polish school of excellence. Fr. Whalen created the Polish Mission, which is a collection of Polish Language School, Art Museum, Archives, Dance Group, Seminary Folk Group. He also created the Polish-English Mass Book, Pan z Wami (The Lord Be with You). The Polonia is most grateful for Fr. Whalen's magnificent work in developing Orchard Lake Schools to extraordinary levels of outstanding performance and reputation. Members of ACPC Detroit Affiliate, Friends of Polish Art, were particularly grateful that their beloved Father Timothy was awarded the much deserved Distinguished Service Award. Fr. Notable research papers written by Matthew include "Shock Therapy: A Comparison of Poland and Russia" and "Truth Be Told: Lustration and Its Impact on Coalition Governments in Post-Communist Europe States."

In describing Matthew's research paper entitled "In Solidarity with Solidarnosc", Professor of History Dr. Piotr H. Kosicki, Title VIII Research Scholar at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, writes "an extremely fine piece of scholarship that does credit to Polish and Polish-American history," Dr. Kosicki also notes that Matthew "...has consistently proven to be the most engaged and intrepid student..." and his academic work this year has shown that he is poised to give back to the Polish-American community in a
